Kerry Logistics Customer case

Kerry Logistics, currently experiencing a high growth, especially the freight forwarding division which drove growth at the group with 33% in core net profit in 2020, planned to enhance their business spend management within their organisation. Florian Stransky, Finance and Accounting Director in Germany talks about the deployment of Expensya, business spend management solution within the company

About Kerry Logistics

Kerry Logistics Network Limited and its group of companies ("Kerry Logistics Network" or the "Group") is an Asia-based, global 3PL (third-party logistics) with a highly diversified business portfolio and the strongest coverage in Asia. They offer a broad range of supply chain solutions from integrated logistics, international freight forwarding (air, ocean, road, rail and multimodal), industrial project logistics, to cross-border e-commerce, last-mile fulfilment and infrastructure investment.

Expensya, an ally to this time-consuming process

Kerry Logistics was using a payroll provider for their business spend management. However, this process was extremely long, and clearly not convenient for its employees. First, those last needed to send their invoices to Hamburg, so their managers will be able to approve them. Secondly, after the managers' approval, invoices are sent to the payroll provider, checking the documentation. Finally, the finance department will need to record all the incurred expenses: this takes weeks to be processed.

« Before implementing Expensya in our company, spend management used to take 4 to 6 weeks to be processed, a real time-consuming process that we needed to change ».

Due to all those inconveniences with this fastidious system, the company decided to deploy an end-to-end solution that would make the whole process more fluid, align with the specificities of each subsidiary and facilitate the daily life of its employees. This is how Kerry Logistics chose Expensya and decided to implement the solution within the company.

A revolutionary tool that meets the company's needs

Expensya adapts to Kerry Logistics' needs

The solution has won over all the teams because of its ability to adapt to the specificities of each entity. Today, Kerry Logistics' data is centralised in a complete and intuitive interface, allowing managers to monitor and analyse all the teams' business expenses in real time. Having implemented this innovative solution proposed by Expensya, teams have visibility of the company's costs and can adjust the spending policy at any time. The finance department can now more easily monitor expenses and detect duplicate expenses or any other anomalies in the expenses incurred.

« We are really happy about Expensya solution, we will recommend it in Germany »

The ergonomics of the mobile application during business trips

The mobile application was extremely useful for Kerry Logistics' employees, especially during business trips. They could easily add their travel expenses and send them to their managers, wherever they were.

« The mobile application is really user friendly and intuitive for our collaborators! What we found really convenient was the fact to upload our PDF easily through the application »

On top of that, this process was fast, allowing them to work abroad with serenity. Expensya solution's ability to manage their business spend efficiently in a short period of time was clearly noticed by Kerry Logistics' employees.

« This process takes only a day now, before it used to take 4 to 6 weeks! One of the main advantages was definitely speed »

Expensya's expense report application allows them to manage their expenses on the fly, including mileage, and to capture all your receipts using OCR+ technology.

One of the main reasons Kerry Logistics chose Expensya over its competitors is because of its per diem module which was a real game changer for them.

« We chose Expensya mainly because of the per diem module, which gives Expensya an edge over its competitors. »

The per diem module, used by Kerry Logistics' employees, allows them to manage their foreign travel allowances based on defined rules. The calculation is automatic, and the management is automated. According to Florian Stransky, the management of per diems via Expensya is an essential functionality for the management of business expenses all over the world.

A new daily routine with Expensya OCR + Technology

Moving forward with the Optical Character Recognition (OCR +) Technology changed literally everything for Kerry Logistics. It transformed drastically the daily routine for Kerry Logistics' employees, they are now able to add all their expenses which are read in a few second. OCR+ technology extracts all the essential information from your invoices in just a few seconds, it does all the data entry for them in most languages.

« We were using Excel sheets and honestly we are quite impressed by the OCR+ Technology, it recognized everything on the invoice in a few seconds! »

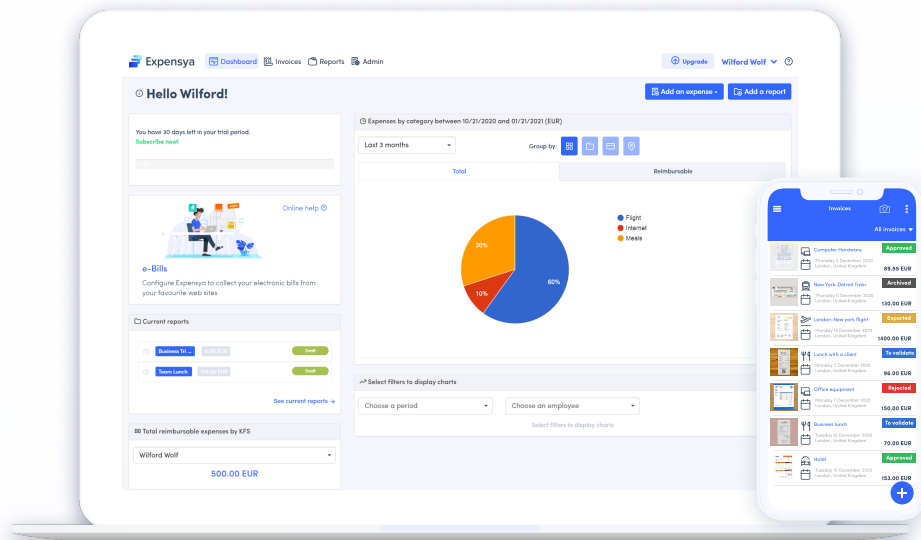

Expensya's OCR+ technology extracts all the essential information from your invoices in just a few seconds, it does all the data entry for you in most languages. Thanks to Expensya, the process was much faster, employees were able to send their invoices instantly in a few clicks to their managers without having to waste time.

« Accounting team saved 2 to 3 hours per month and employees saved 30 minutes per expense after implementing Expensya! »

Apart from time, Kerry Logistics saved money. Indeed, managing their business spend with their external provider was costly and not efficient for their employees. Expensya is managing 10 000 euros of transactions monthly for Kerry Logistics, employees are used to send their invoices to their managers but the previous external provider managing their business spend had a huge cost.

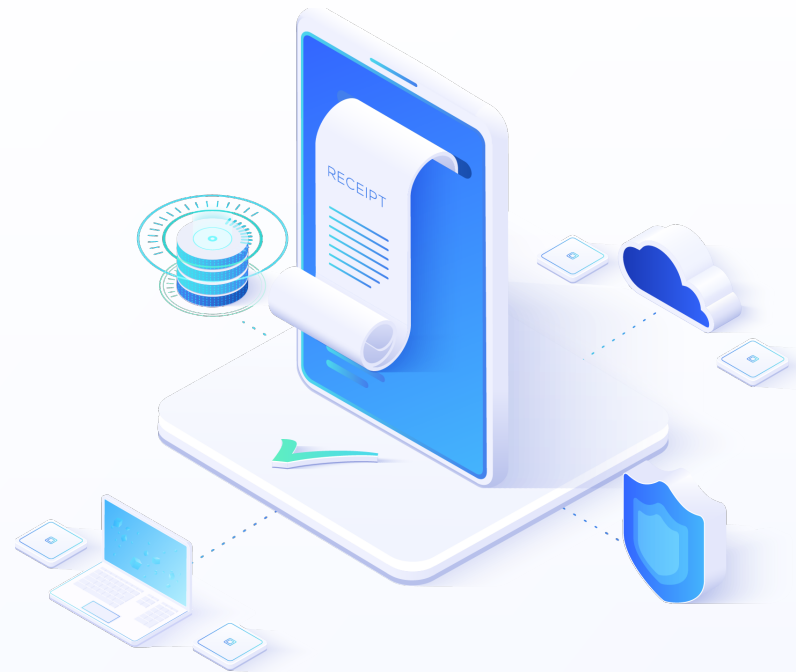

« We were paying up to 800 euros monthly to our payroll provider. Now, we are paying 140 euros with Expensya, a huge gap! »

Expensya was able to respond to the inconveniences encountered in managing the company's expense reports by providing a connected and intuitive solution that meets Kerry Logistics' specific needs.

Automated spend management for all companies
